Betty Sharon Bostwick

September 24, 1942 - February 20, 2024

Sharon Bostwick, age 81, was born to OJ and Betty Bagley in Govan, Washington where she grew up on the family farm and attended Wilbur Schools. She spent her childhood riding horses and helping on the farm. She was proud of being able to purchase her own horse, which she named Jim, long before she met her husband.

Following graduation, Sharon took a job at Pacific NW Bell as a phone operator until phones became automated and then went to work for Wilbur Grain Growers. Her talent for bookkeeping, memorization, and flying fingers on the 10-key calculator led her to a 40-year career with Central Washington Grain Growers where she thrived on complex mathematics calculating crop divisions and payroll using old school methods long before computers. She rarely made errors and loved the long days in the office working alongside her colleagues during harvest.

Jim and Sharon have been married 60 years and had two children, Terri and Bob. She was a loving and supportive mother who always worked hard to provide opportunities for her children that she never had as a child.

Sharon's strict rules for raising her own children went out the window when her six grandsons were born, as they could do no wrong. Keeping up with her grandsons and their friends was her favorite pastime. She was known as "Grandma Sharon" by all (the kids) and could always be counted on to have a cooler full of snacks and a front row seat to every activity from T-ball to state championships. Grandma Sharon was well known for keeping statics on her yellow notepad at every game, regardless of the sport. She treasured time with her family, whether playing a rowdy game of rummy with her cheating grandsons or celebrating the holidays with her traditions of ornaments, stockings, and an Easter cake.

Sharon loved to camp at the river. The annual family trip to Keller Ferry every Fourth of July started in the 70's and continued for decades. She enjoyed camping with friends and family and always welcomed anyone who showed up. Many happy days were spent playing cribbage and sitting around the campfire.

Sharon is survived by her husband Jim at home, son Bob and wife Sharma and grandsons Blake and Cole Bostwick, daughter Terri and husband Todd King and grandsons Ryan King and wife Kelsey and great granddaughter Dailey, Jared King and wife Charli and great grandson Cooper, Trevor King and fiancé McKenna Mallory, and Marcus King, and step-daughter Patty Albert and husband Guy and grandson Jace and granddaughter Hannah. She is also survived by her sister Doris Shore, brothers Bill Bagley and Glen and Carol Bagley, and many nieces and nephews including her dear niece and friend Rhonda Widmer.

SPRING HEALTH HAPPENINGS
Spring is right around the corner and with it comes warm days and more sunlight, expanding our ability to enjoy the natural beauty of our county. As you begin to fill your calendar with fun, we hope you'll make time to take care of yourself.

March is colorectal cancer (CRC) awareness month. Screenings should begin at age 45, but if you have a family history, talk to your provider about what age is right for you. Early detection is important for any type of cancer, but CRC has a 90% survival rate when it is caught early. There are two types of CRC screening: a colonoscopy or an at-home fecal test.

Colonoscopies use a camera to allow your provider to visually inspect the colon and bowel system, removing any polyps they see to test for cancer. Generally speaking, colonoscopies are done once every ten years, but each person is different. For the at-home fecal test, commonly known by the brand name of Cologuard®, you'll collect a sample and mail it back to a lab for testing. Colonoscopies are the best option to ensure early detection, but an at-home test is certainly better than nothing.

Even though screening and early detection can reduce the risk of reaching a terminal stage, about 40% of Lincoln County community members are skipping their screening. With CRC being the third most commonly diagnosed cancer in men and women, keeping up with regular screenings are critical. To that end, we are bringing back a beloved summer event which will focus on CRC. A Midsummer Night's Dream Health Faire will be held June 13 at Davenport Middle School. Planning for the event is well underway and will include vendors, a performance by the Davenport Drama Club, guest speakers, and even a special activity room for the kids. While we aren't ready to reveal all of the details of this magical night, we can share the evening will have food, fun, and fairies! Make sure to save the date and gather your family and friends for a night you won't want to miss.

So, as you plan for some spring and summer fun, make sure to talk to your provider about what CRC screening option is right for you. Colonoscopies are available at Lincoln Hospital for those who wish to keep their care local. Then don't forget to mark your calendar for the evening of June 13 and join LCHD for the revived Midsummer Night's Dream health faire.

Visit co.lincoln.wa.us/public-health for more information on these and other topics to support your health.

"HIDDEN IN PLAIN SIGHT"

Attn: All parents/caregivers/grandparents of kids of all ages
FREE EVENT • MUST BE 21+ TO ATTEND

WHEN: Wednesday, March 13th, 2024 from 6pm-8pm

WHERE: Wilbur-Creston High School Multipurpose Room

Childcare and dinner is provided to all that attend.
 Pre-registration is encouraged.

WHAT: Teenage years can be difficult, indicators of teen drug use, mental health, human trafficking and other risk factors can be hidden in plain sight, but easy for parents and other adults to miss. This presentation brings a unique opportunity to get involved with the presentation through this two-part interactive event.

HANDS ON: Participants will walk through a mock teen bedroom and try to identify 70+ items, which can indicate problem or risky behavior.

PRESENTATION: After walking through the teen room, attendees will participate in a presentation and discussion which will cover:

- Identification and discussion of items and how they may indicate problem or risky behaviors.
- Popular local youth trends and data
- Tools to help navigate the teen year and discussion points for family conversations

Come and learn what is trending with youth today and how to start the conversations that can sometimes be difficult but are necessary. Resource tables will be available during this presentation for all participants.

REGISTRATION: To register for this FREE presentation or if you have any questions contact Billie Wheeler at (509) 385-2983 via text or call or email Billie at bwheeler@esd101.net
